Session Title: NEW government compliance challenges and solutions- how much is ENOUGH?"

Description: Simplify the implementation and maintenance of an appropriate HIPAA and OIG compliance program, with their extensive lists of required and addressable standards, in the typical chiropractic or multidisciplinary clinic, so that the option exists for the doctor to delegate and/or oversee the majority of this process and/or participate to whatever level desired. Bonus sections presently regard protecting against Ransom ware, 1557 ACA act-who is required to comply and what they have to do.

Session Title: Is the new OIG danger going to prove more important than HIPAA? Or will Ransom ware trump all as the new biggest threat?

Description: This program will cover the true benefit of an OIG compliance program - to help protect doctors against charges of fraud and abuse or penalties over the filing of erroneous insurance claims relative to federal payment programs such as Medicare and/or to help show DOCUMENTED good faith efforts to help you avoid engaging in unlawful conduct that involves a federal healthcare program.

Taken directly from the Federal Register the government states “the development of these types of compliance program guidance is based on our belief that the healthcare provider can use internal controls to more efficiently monitor adherence to applicable statutes, regulations and program requirements.

This program will briefly cover that a solid basic OIG program is considered to have seven components:

- conducting internal monitoring and auditing.
- Implementing compliance and practice standards
- designating a compliance officer or contact
- conducting appropriate training and education
- responding appropriately to detected offenses and developing corrective actions
- developing open lines of communication
- enforcing disciplinary standards through well-publicized guidelines
